

BRAUNHAGEY & BORDEN LLP

Mid-Level Litigation Associate Attorney

About the Job

Position: Mid-Level Litigation Associate Attorney

Office: San Francisco

Experience: 5-7 years

Job Description

We are looking for a mid-level litigation associate attorney with experience in high-stakes litigation to join our ranks. A successful candidate will possess a strong academic record from a top law school; 5-7 years-experience in complex commercial litigation in matters including, but not limited to, trademark/copyright, trade secrets, antitrust, and class actions; federal or state supreme court clerkship (preferred); and exceptional communication and interpersonal skills. Success in this position requires a positive, energetic attitude and dedicated work ethic.

In addition to the above credentials, we are looking for someone who has experience with and possesses the following qualities:

- Established research and writing capabilities
- Drafted demand letters, motions, briefs, and other legal documents
- Taken/defended depositions
- Managed large document collection and production
- Experienced in all phases of discovery
- Trial and arbitration experience
- Managed junior associates on case team
- Communicated with clients, opposing counsel, experts, and others
- Collaborated across various teams

Who We Are

BraunHagey & Borden LLP is a nationally recognized boutique law firm based in San Francisco and New York. We serve as counsel to public and private businesses, hedge funds, and private equity firms facing complex litigation and regulatory events. We regularly represent our clients in bet the company litigation matters.

We are not a traditional firm, and we do not provide the typical law firm experience. Our clients value our ability to bring innovation to the legal profession with our strategic and unique approach. We staff matters leanly; our associates get real hands-on work on complex and often fast-moving matters. BHB curates a small close-knit environment, and we take great care in selecting associates who excel at a wide range of task in a fast-paced workplace. We enjoy brainstorming and white boarding together and with our clients, not paper pushing. We are energetic, and we love being lawyers and trusted advisors.

Interested applicants should provide (1) a customized cover letter explaining their interest in the firm, (2) a complete law school transcript, (3) a substantive writing sample, and (4) resume. Please send all materials to careers@braunhagey.com.

BraunHagey & Borden is an equal opportunity employer and actively recruits candidates with diverse economic, racial, religious, ethnic, and sexual orientation backgrounds.
